This is an annual compilation of the rural preservation companies who are members of the Rural Housing Coalition of New York. The Rural Housing Coalition of New York is a statewide organization dedicated to revitalizing rural New York by strengthening housing and community development providers.

Rural Preservation Companies (RPCs)

Rural Preservation Companies (RPCs) are community-based non-profits with boards of directors that use state and federal grants to leverage private funding to provide a variety of services such as the rehabilitation, construction, and management of affordable housing in addition to undertaking main street revitalization and public infrastructure improvements.

Housing and Community Development Programs Utilized by RPCs
